Dear Hans van der Bilt,

Europe Steel Markets is the conference of the year - where industry executives across the entire supply chain, come together. Don't miss out! Join us on 16-17 May in Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

REGISTER TODAY »

During the 8th annual Europe Steel Markets conference, steel executives and market participants will gather to discuss global steel sector prospects for the second half of 2023, as well as share their experiences and latest industry developments.

A number of topics are set to be addressed, including the ongoing investments to meet stringent environmental legislations in Europe, price trends for steel products, end-user demand and the rising importance of scrap among raw material inputs.
